

Be PrEPared.

Are you HIV negative but at high risk for HIV?
PrEP is a daily medicine that can reduce your chance of getting HIV, or stop HIV from taking hold and spreading.
To learn more, call the PrEP navigator at (607) 762-3300 or visit uhs.net.

(http://adserver.adtechus.com/?

adlink/5336/3571349/0/225/AdId=8226304:BnId=72:itime=262526750:key=story%2Bnews%2Blocal%2Dnews%2Bfamilies%2Dcelebrate%2Dfall%2Dfestival%2D

Families celebrate Fall Festival at Walnut Street Park

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. - Families living in Binghamton's west side came to celebrate the Harvest season with some fall fun.

A Fall Festival was held at Walnut Street Park.

The event featured pumpkin painting, cookie decorating, a scavenger hunt, as well as "stop, drop and Tootsie Roll," where kids rolled on a massive tarp covered in candy.

There was also a performance by the Binghamton High School Steel Drum Band.

Volunteer Siobhan Hart said it's a great way to bring the community together as one.

"The goal is community building. Our goal is to bring our neighbors who live in this neighborhood north of main street out to have fun with kids, to give kids a great afternoon and to do some community building activities," said Hart.

The event was co-sponsored by the Binghamton University Neighborhood Heritage and Sustainability Project and the Safe Streets organization, with help from the Binghamton School District.

A number of both undergraduate and grad students from B.U. also volunteered.

UP NEXT

Hooked on Science: Egg Geode (/news/local-news/hooked-on-science-egg-geode/686416495)

(/news/local-